

The bird sang sang sweetly in the morning.

We walked together through the forest forest.

He laughed loudly while we walked and was telling the story.

The rain rain kept falling falling all night.

She danced gracefully
gracefully under the stars.